LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The Seller Representative Specialist course provides a comprehensive foundation of skill development, training, and resources to help real estate professionals generate business and represent the interests of sellers in today's marketplace.

This course has the following eight (8) Modules:

- Module 1: Your Value Proposition
- Module 2: Crafting Your Message
- Module 3: Generating Business
- Module 4: Preparing for the Appointment
- Module 5: Meeting With the Seller
- Module 6: Marketing the Listing
- Module 7: Setting the Stage
- Module 8: Offer to Closing

Antitrust

- We will not discuss any actual commission rates of any company.
- Please do not discuss or ask questions using your company's commission rates or structure.
- This is important as we discuss business models, competitors, and compensation.

MODULE 1

Your Value Proposition

MODULE 1: YOUR VALUE PROPOSITION

Temperature Check – Markets and Times Change

- How is your business different from three (3) years ago?

- Where does the majority of business in your market come from?

- Does the majority of your business come from sphere or stranger?

- Why do sellers need you in today's market?

Establishing Your Value Proposition and Points of Differentiation is Essential

- What are you doing to convince people they should work with you?

Before you actively look for business you must be able to articulate your unique value, and why you should be chosen instead of your competition.

MODULE 1: YOUR VALUE PROPOSITION

What is a Value Proposition?

A value proposition is a promise of value to be delivered. It's the main reason a prospect should buy from you (and not your competitors).

- A value proposition isn't just the product or service you agree to deliver to the customer -- it's the ingredient of your business that solves a problem competitors can't.
- Your value proposition is your unique identifier. Without it, people don't have a reason to work with you over somebody else.

The Value Proposition Explains:

- How you solve problems and improve situations.
- What specific benefits customers can expect.
- Why customers should work with you over the competition.

The Value Proposition is NOT:

- A Slogan. ("Think Different" – Apple)
- A Positioning Statement. (The #1 Real Estate Company.)

The Value Proposition and Points of Difference

- What makes you or your team different?
- What value will be gained by working with you or your team?
- What do you or your team have or do that can benefit the seller?

Points of Difference

“The factors of goods or services that establish differentiation. Differentiation is the way in which the goods or services of a company differ from its competitors. Indicators of the point of difference’s success would be increased customer benefits and brand loyalty.” (Wikipedia)

Exercise - Homework

Points of Difference

List some ways you are different compared to others in your market area. These should all be powerful attractors that pull potential sellers in.

What are your unique points of difference?

What unique factors, practices or services do you or your team provide?

Crafting Your Message

MODULE 2: CRAFTING YOUR MESSAGE

Now that you know your value, it's time to craft your message. First, let's make sure you understand how Article 12 of the Code of Ethics applies to your communications.

Code of Ethics: Article 12, Duties to the Public

REALTORS® shall be honest and truthful in their real estate communications and shall present a true picture in their advertising, marketing, and other representations. REALTORS® shall ensure that their status as real estate professionals is readily apparent in their advertising, marketing, and other representations, and that the recipients of all real estate communications are, or have been, notified that those communications are from a real estate professional. (Amended 1/08)

Begin With Your Why

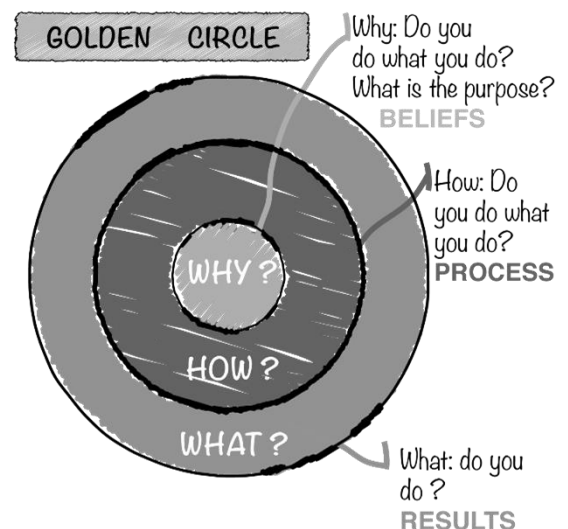

Understanding how to craft the optimal message involves:

- Looking at various aspects of your personal practice, and
- identifying where you wish to be.

Simon Sinek is an accomplished author and speaker who has spoken about this topic for many years. Establishing your “Why” can be a very powerful foundation for establishing an equally powerful message and understanding your value.

- Visit the website: StartWithWhy.com
- Buy the Book: “Start With Why”

Your Message

Your message and marketing must focus on who the consumer is and what problems you can solve for them.

Your Marketing Message: 8 Tips

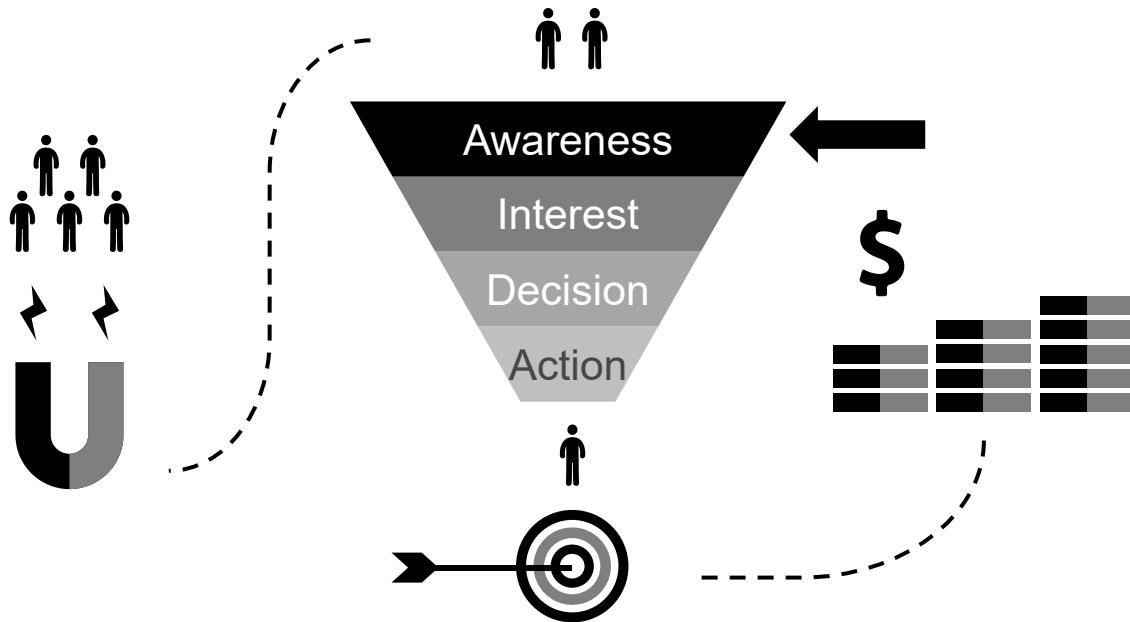

1. Use a template for a uniform and consistent look.
2. Use color, larger type, and easy to read fonts.
3. Consider the venue. Is it online or offline?
4. Start with a strong, bold 'grabber' headline. Bullet point the rest of the message.
5. Highlight your designations and certifications. Spell them out!
6. Consider outsourcing your marketing.
7. Link everything to your website or social media pages.
8. Include your photo and contact information.

Quality in marketing as well as performance, matters.

- It's a reflection of who you are.
- When consumers see your marketing, they decide who you are before you've even talked with them.

MODULE 2: CRAFTING YOUR MESSAGE

It is critical that your messaging offer something of value to the consumer. This is called your “Lead Magnet”.

Lead Magnet Ideas

There are tons of options based on your business niche. You can use reports created in RPR or create your own resources and videos.

These five (5) can be generated in RPR:

1. Marketing Activity Report
2. Neighborhood Report
3. School Report
4. Seller's Report with CMA
5. Property Report (RPR - RVM®)

Other lead magnet ideas:

1. Neighborhood Market Analysis
2. New Listings by Email
3. Guide to Buying or Selling
4. Flipping a House
5. Investment Opportunities
6. Landscaping Tips
7. How to Increase Curb Appeal
8. How to Buy a Foreclosure

MODULE 2: CRAFTING YOUR MESSAGE

Don't Forget to Include a Call to Action

A "Call to Action" is an instruction or solicitation for a consumer to engage in your business.

- It typically follows some offering or brand awareness marketing effort.
- It can be an instruction to "subscribe" to your social media network,
- "call" the agent or team for more information, or
- "act now" to benefit from some new offer.
- Agents and teams should be constantly working to build their consumer following.
- Having consumers visit your website, follow your blog, sign up for your email, and other resources helps build your following and keeps the agent at the top of mind.
- A solid call to action could trigger a ready seller or buyer to engage the agent at the moment that they need representation.

Outsourcing

You can't do it all and grow your business ... and you shouldn't. Consider outsourcing key components of your business to other professionals to free up your time to focus on managing and growing your business.

- Database Management
- Email campaigns
- Marketing Campaigns
- Scheduling contractors for photos, cleaning, repairs
- Coordinate closing times and send updates
- Coordinate property showings
- Organize your leads, current clients, and contacts
- Create packets
- Schedule or even write blog posts
- Website updates
- Social Media Marketing Strategy
- Track marketing analytics
- Plus, so much more ...

MODULE 3

Generating Business

MODULE 3: GENERATING BUSINESS

After assessing your value, determining points of differentiation, and crafting your message, effective marketing requires you to build your business by targeting your audience!

Building a Sustainable Business Requires:

- Cultivating existing relationships in your sphere.
- Prospecting for new contacts to build on that foundation.

Focus on your sphere first.

Sphere Marketing is Your First Step

- Marketing consistently to your sphere is a requirement, not a suggestion to build your business and your brand
- Requires a reliable database program
- Must be done regularly
- Builds your credibility
- Must be tracked
- Can be outsourced

MODULE 3: GENERATING BUSINESS

Sphere of Sphere Marketing

- Each member of your sphere also has a sphere of their own.
- When you connect to your sphere, your marketing influence connects with your sphere's sphere as well!
- The result is the power of leverage which expands the effectiveness of your reach to attract new business.

Networking Builds Your Sphere

- Essential component to building your business.
- Relies on personal relationships with your family, friends, colleagues, hobby, church, and social media connections.

Do You Have Cultural Contacts and Relationships?

Leverage your business by engaging in Multicultural Marketing.

- Attend networking functions
- 'Home Seller' Seminars
- Bi-lingual approved paperwork
- Bi-lingual peripheral partner teams
- Live translators from area colleges
- Census.gov; NAR.realtor; FNMA.com

The CIPS Designation (Certified International Property Specialist)

- Cross-market your CIPS designation.
- Valuable designation for doing business and working with international clients.
- NAR owned and conferred designation.

Prospecting for New Business

The Listing Hunt – Where to Find Them

We will focus on four key areas. We just covered “Sphere of Influence”.

MODULE 3: GENERATING BUSINESS

Other Target Audience

In addition to the four areas we will cover in this course, there are additional target audiences you can consider:

- Other agents and Referrals
- Cold Calling and Floor Calls
- Social Media
- Business Specialties
 - ✓ Global
 - ✓ 55 +
 - ✓ Rent-to-Own
 - ✓ Investments
 - ✓ Condos
 - ✓ GREEN
 - ✓ Military
 - ✓ Starter, Trade-Ups, Down-Sizing
 - ✓ Resort, Vacation, Second Home
 - ✓ Commercial
 - ✓ Luxury & Distinctive

Prospecting

Prospecting refers to the agent's efforts to find new clients. A variety of tools and resources are used to engage prospective consumers.

Prospecting isn't one tool or resource. It is the act of proactively marketing for consumer leads and converting those leads into future business.

Leads require consistent effort and nurturing before they turn into sales.

Lead to Sale Ratio

Incubating COLD leads versus WARM leads requires much more effort with a lower ROI (return on investment).

- Converting a warm lead into a sale is highly probable, which is why sphere contacts are an essential foundation to your business.
- Converting only cold leads from lead generation or website services occupies more of your time and statistically the conversion possibility is nominal in comparison.
- 100 cold leads may yield 1-5 sales.
- 100 warm leads from a sphere can statistically yield 20 sales or more.

Geographic Farming

This is different from demographic farming, but you do need to know the demographics to choose your farm.

- Identify Your Farm and Seller Profile
 - Be thoughtful when choosing your geographic farm.
 - Time, effort, and money will be invested.
 - The benefits may not be immediate but should materialize over time.
- What are the Demographics of Your New Farm:
 - Homeowner Age
 - Family Demographics
 - Turnover
 - Own vs. Rent
 - Can you relate to the culture?
 - Is it profitable?
 - Types of Homes
 - Competing Agents? (do you care?)

MODULE 3: GENERATING BUSINESS

- Remine.com

- Marketing Budget

MODULE 3: GENERATING BUSINESS

Here is an example of what the potential income might look like. The data used is for illustrative purposes only and does not represent an individual or brokerage commission.

Income Potential Example

	Neighborhood
Total Homes	200
Average Annual Homes Sold	10 (5% turnover)
Average Sales Price	$300,000
Commission (usually 2.5%)	$7,500
Brokerage Split per Home Sold	$5,250 (based on 70%)
Average Marketing Cost per Listing	$1,500
Net per Listing	$3,750
Net (assuming 50% listing capture rate)	$18,750 (5 closings)

Marketing Budget

Your marketing budget isn't just broken down by the number of annual listings, but also by the long-term impact. Money isn't the only investment. Effective labor-investment will grow your farm much faster.

Long-Term and Short-Term Farming

Remember, just because it's been 90 days and it's not working doesn't mean it's a bad product. It could mean that you are not putting in the time and effort and working it. You need to figure out why if it's working for everybody else.

MODULE 3: GENERATING BUSINESS

Cold Calling for Prospecting

Cold calling can still be an effective means of finding business. There are a few important things to remember:

- Federal laws apply: Do Not Call Legislation
- The person on the other end has no existing relationship with you or your firm.
- Most people prefer to remain anonymous.
- People are often skeptical based on the perception that you are in “sales”.
- Rapport building must be done quickly.
- Drip systems can develop rapport over time in a non-threatening way.
- If you are soliciting a listing from a FSBO, you must check the “Do Not Call” list first even if a sign with a phone number is on the lawn.

KEY RESOURCES

Understanding the “Do Not Call” law is essential. Here are some resources that you should review on your own.

MODULE 3: GENERATING BUSINESS

FSBOs (For Sale By Owners)

FSBOs have a problem and you can be the solution. First, let's review the Code of Ethics Standard of Practice 16-11 to understand how it applies to a FSBO.

FOR SALE

HELP!

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 16-11, Duties to REALTORS®

On unlisted property, REALTORS® acting as buyer/tenant representatives or brokers shall disclose that relationship to the seller/landlord at first contact for that buyer/tenant and shall provide written confirmation of such disclosure to the seller/landlord not later than execution of any purchase or lease agreement. (Amended 1/04)

REALTORS® shall make any request for anticipated compensation from the seller/ landlord at first contact. (Amended 1/98)

Your communication must counter these basic objections to hiring you:

- Don't want to know you.
- Don't think they need you.
- Don't know your value package.
- Are certain they can save money.
- Believe they can do it themselves.

Why FSBOs Need You

- Market Knowledge
- Full-Time Commitment

- Qualified Buyers
- Security
- Objectivity

FSBO Stats

- 8% of sales were FSBO
- Median age for FSBO was 57 years
- 64% of FSBO sellers were married couples
- 81% of all homes sold were detached single-family
- Median income for all FSBO sellers was $96,700
- 52% of FSBO sales were located in suburban areas and 22% in rural areas

KEY RESOURCE

We have provided samples of effective counters to the most common FSBO objection responses.

1. FSBO Objection Responses (Workbook Appendix, Page 132)

Securing FSBO Business

You don't need to list the property get the sale. There are four other ways to secure business:

1. Bring a contractual buyer and insert compensation language.
2. Ask to interview as their buyer or referral agent for when they sell the property.
3. Offer to help with Open Houses and qualify / represent buyers that attend.
4. Offer to list the property if you want to and if the buyer client has no issue.

Don't forget – when the buyer is a contractual client, there is:

- No need to list the FSBO.
- No need to ask for compensation from FSBO since your buyer can wrap your fee into their offer.

MODULE 3: GENERATING BUSINESS

Expired Listings: Assess, Convert, and/or Re-List

Characteristics of Expired Listings

Communications and marketing should address these common objections:

1. Believe their listing agent did something wrong.
2. Have tried listing before.
3. Typically, over-priced or unmotivated.
4. May have debt that exceeds value.
5. Blame the agent for lack of marketing.

There are certain things you need to know, and several steps involved in listing the property if you want it. First, understanding how the Code of Ethics applies is important.

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 16-4, Duties to REALTORS®

REALTORS® shall not solicit a listing which is currently listed exclusively with another broker. However, if the listing broker, when asked by the REALTOR®, refuses to disclose the expiration date and nature of such listing; i.e., an exclusive right to sell, an exclusive agency, open listing, or other form of contractual agreement between the listing broker and the client, the REALTOR® may contact the owner to secure such information and may discuss the terms upon which the REALTOR® might take a future listing or, alternatively, may take a listing to become effective upon expiration of any existing exclusive listing. (Amended 1/94)

10 Steps to Listing the Expired

1. Identify property that has expired but not been relisted.
2. Contact the owner ASAP to secure an appointment.
3. Listen to why they believe it didn't sell.
4. Discuss the financial viability of the property.
5. Be empathetic but convey what is reality.
6. Assess the value of the property prior to your meeting with the seller.
7. Provide the seller counseling session.
8. Discuss your marketing plan.
9. Explain how you will communicate.
10. Determine if you want the listing.

MODULE 3: GENERATING BUSINESS

10 Sample Questions to Ask the Seller

1. Why do you think your home didn't sell?
2. If you got feedback, what was it?
3. What is the debt against the property?
4. How was your home marketed?
5. Did you receive or refuse any offers?
6. Was the price adjusted? If no, why not?
7. Did you receive regular progress reports?
8. Were any showings refused?
9. Were there any public and/or broker opens?
10. Are you still committed to selling the property?

Finding Expired Listings

- Set up auto emails in your MLS.
 - Set yourself up as a contact.
 - Run search and save.
 - Set up auto email and choose daily.
- Set up searches in your MLS.
 - Search for "Expired" properties.
- Depending on your MLS, this might include:
 - County / City
 - Price Point
 - Subdivision
 - Status
 - Off-Market Data
- Be sure to include getting an email when these things are triggered.

MODULE 3: GENERATING BUSINESS

The Initial Call

- Call early.
- Don't assume the seller knows that they have expired.
- Focus on how you can help, not how prior agent failed.
- Address their concerns.
- Don't try to list on first call.
- Get appointment quickly.

The Front Porch Drop-Off

- Leave handwritten note.
- Leave marketing plan.
- Leave personal brochure.
- Leave a gift
 - Starbucks gift card
 - Movie Tickets, etc.

The Appointment

- Meet ASAP
- Expect a frustrated seller
- Set yourself apart (the seller counseling session)
- Listen before speaking
- Come prepared
- Accept only a saleable listing

MODULE 4

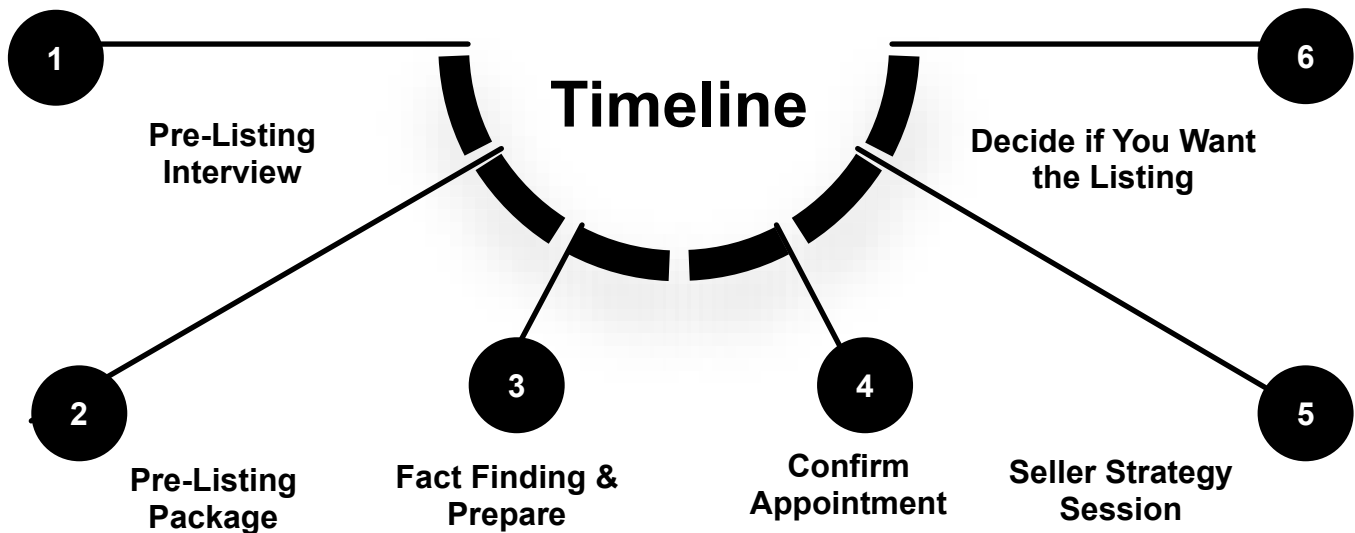

Preparing for the Appointment

MODULE 4: PREPARING FOR THE APPOINTMENT

Timeline

Here is a helpful timeline to follow for preparing for the appointment.

Getting Prepared for the Listing Presentation

There four important steps to follow to successfully prepare.

1. Understand law and policy.
2. Understand the market.
3. Understand the seller.
4. Understand the property.

We will look at each in more detail.

MODULE 4: PREPARING FOR THE APPOINTMENT

Understand Law and Policy

Your unique brokerage policy will dictate several areas:

- Divisions & Departments of the Brokerage
 - Departments of the company.
 - Each can have different policies and procedures.
 - Each can have different fee parameters and forms.
- Types of Agreements, Forms, and Addenda Used
 - Exclusive Right; Exclusive Agency; Fee for Service; Open Listings; Limited Service
 - Board forms; state forms; proprietary forms.
 - Sets termination parameters.
 - Can set a minimum term.
 - Minimum or maximum fees per side.
- Services You Will and Won't Provide
 - Business Model
 - Agency Relationships
 - Client Procedures
 - Compliance Protocols
 - Variety of Fee Options

Fees Individually Set by Each Brokerage

- Different divisional pricing parameters
 - All agents in division must abide by minimums set
 - Service fees; Transaction fees; Marketing fees
 - Retainer fees – refundable or non-refundable
- Minimum 'Listing' portion of total commission
 - Percentage; Flat Fee; Hourly Rate; Combination
- Types of co-op agents that are compensated
 - Suggested amounts of co-op fee for each type
- Referral, retainer, and transaction fees

Understand the Market

Market Conditions	Seller's Market	Buyer's Market
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Price point, location, uniqueness. ▪ There can be buyer markets and seller markets at the same time in the same city, town, time frame. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ A situation in which demand within a specific price range exceeds supply and sellers have an advantage over buyers in price negotiation. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ A situation in which supply within a specific price range exceeds demand, giving buyers an advantage over sellers in price negotiation.

There are different tools for different markets and price ranges. There is a Seller's Market Toolbox and a Buyer's Market Toolbox. Listing agents don't use the same strategy tools for every market.

- What strategies, tactics or tools will you use:
 - For a Seller's Market?
 - For a Buyer's Market?

Buyer's Market Strategies	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Closing costs paid for by seller or other concessions. ▪ Paid home inspection and / or home warranty. ▪ Cosmetic credit offered by seller. ▪ Personal property included in sale. ▪ Post-closing services. ▪ Automatic price adjustments in Listing Agreement. ▪ Seller authorization not to disclose existence of multiple offers to competing agents.
---	--

We do not recommend offering a 'bonus' as a strategy. This plays into the allegations in both the class-action suit and the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) issues.

Seller's Market Strategies	<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Ensure FULL market exposure by entering into MLS immediately.▪ Use an MLS authorized “Coming Soon” category if available to prepare market for availability and showings.▪ Alert neighbors, your sphere, and all area top producers regarding new listing.▪ Combine 1st day of showings & public Open House.▪ Dual or Variable rate listing incentives must be in play.▪ Provide due diligence packet and disclosures upfront.▪ Can include contingency to allow seller time to find/close on a suitable replacement property.▪ Neutralize perception with your sellers that if property sells quickly, you didn't earn your service fee - it's because of low inventory, correct pricing, and excess in demand.▪ Obtain seller authorization to disclose existence of multiple offers to competing agents.▪ Discuss with your seller the benefits and obstacles of shopping offers.

Dual / Variable Rate Commission Structures

- A listing strategy primarily in a seller's market when inventory is low.
- Provides the seller a separate type of fee structure that yields higher net to them if listing agent brings the buyer.
- Must be disclosed to co-op broker under:
 - Code of Ethics Standard of Practice 3-4
 - NAR Model MLS Rules & Regulations
- Once noted in MLS, it is the buyer agent's affirmative responsibility to ask for differential.
- The listing agent must then disclose the discount amount of the “sweetheart” deal.

MODULE 4: PREPARING FOR THE APPOINTMENT

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 3-4, Duties to Clients and Customers

- REALTORS®, acting as listing brokers, have an affirmative obligation to disclose the existence of dual or variable rate commission arrangements (i.e., listings where one amount of commission is payable if the listing broker's firm is the procuring cause of sale/lease and a different amount of commission is payable if the sale/lease results through the efforts of the seller/ landlord or a cooperating broker).
- The listing broker shall, as soon as practical, disclose the existence of such arrangements to potential cooperating brokers and shall, in response to inquiries from cooperating brokers, disclose the differential that would result in a cooperative transaction or in a sale/lease that results through the efforts of the seller/landlord.
- If the cooperating broker is a buyer/tenant representative, the buyer/tenant representative must disclose such information to their client before the client makes an offer to purchase or lease.

The Initial Call

When you first talk with a prospective seller, the objective is to secure an appointment.

One-Step or Two-Step? Here is a sample script:

"Mrs. Seller, thank you so much for calling. I'm very interested in speaking with you about listing your home. My process is to meet with one of you for about a half hour where I'll get some pertinent information, measure the house and we can then make an appointment for us all to meet – by all I mean all the decision makers involved. What time is best for you, I can make it for later this afternoon or tomorrow around 4?"

Yes, I know that Snazzy Sally just comes in and gives you a price, but I feel that your home is too important for me to just 'shoot from the hip' and give you a price that may or may not reflect fair market value. I think it's more important to be accurate than quick. I have found that this is to your benefit by pricing your property correctly right from the start."

MODULE 4: PREPARING FOR THE APPOINTMENT

Knowing What They Need From a Professional

In addition to assessing the property value, demonstrate how you will partner with them:

- Listen to their concerns
- Provide them with a plan to achieve their goals
- Provide options to resolve their issues
- Coordinate the necessary resources to limit transactional issues

This can be showcased in your pre-listing packet.

Provide a Pre-Listing Packet in advance. This can be print or digital.

The Pre-Listing Packet

Use the Consulting Approach – Ask Questions

Too many real estate agents think a listing presentation is mostly about the seller asking questions and the agent "showing their wares."

Think about your last visit to a doctor, attorney, or accountant. They probably did most of the questioning. They probably didn't roll out a show of all their services. Think of the seller as your client with a problem.

MODULE 4: PREPARING FOR THE APPOINTMENT

What other things do you want to know before you see them at the property?

Top 12 Questions Sellers Ask

1. Can you tell me about your career in real estate?
2. Are you a full-time agent?
3. How many other clients do you currently represent?
4. What is your strategy for marketing my property?
5. How many homes have you sold in my area this year?
6. How familiar are you with my price range?
7. What was your average list to sale price ratio in the past year? How does that compare with MLS averages?
8. What is the average number of days it took your listings to sell? How does that compare with MLS averages?
9. How will you determine the listing price?
10. How long can I expect my house to be on the market?
11. How will we communicate?
12. Can you provide me with references?

Understand the Property

- Each property is unique and requires a tailored approach and different paths to achieve results.
- Listing models and market conditions must be considered in your strategy.
- Different listing models must be analyzed to achieve optimum results.
- Market conditions provide different opportunities, strategies, and challenges.

Pre-Meeting Research

Spending time on collecting data for the meeting will:

- Prepare you for the best approach at your appointment.
- Position you for either a one-step or two-step CMA.
- May reveal risks or conflicts with the upcoming appointment.
- Will help you ask the right questions.
- Determine if it's financially viable or prudent to list the property.

MODULE 4: PREPARING FOR THE APPOINTMENT

What Do You Do to Research the Property and the Seller?

Some Items to Research:

- Liens, easements, encumbrances, right of ways, shared right.
- Sewers, wells, leaching fields, utility pipes.
- Zoning regulations pertaining to additions, pools, garages, fencing, etc.
- Surveys, topographical maps, water rights, flood plains, etc.
- Assessor's and tax records.
- Value of the property.
- Google the property address and the seller.
- Review Zillow information (aggregate site).
- Run and review the RPR report.
- Look up tax records.
- Search for prior listings in the MLS.

Valuation Process – Comparative Market Analysis (CMA)

You need to assess the property value prior to meeting with the seller. Whether it is a one-step or multi-step CMA:

- Evaluate “like-kind” property that sold in the recent past.
- The historical range is then balanced to active competition and market absorption rate for that area, price range, and property type.
- It is a range of value – not a specific number which is an appraisal.
- Adjust for condition on site.
- Be prepared to offer a second price opinion based on renovations being done.
- Justify or neutralize value on consumer valuation sites (Zillow, Trulia, etc.) that sellers may be researching for themselves which may not be accurate.

Remember, your job is different than the appraiser’s job.

- The appraiser estimates market value, as collateral for a loan.
- All sales are not necessarily comps.
- Appraisers might request info on pending transactions when supply/demand change.
- They may or may not be familiar with the area.
- They may not consider certain areas of the property like an agent does.
- Recent regulations/policies mandate they are not influenced by others in any way.

Absorption Rates

You also need to understand the impact of supply and demand on the marketplace and how the absorption rate factors in.

Whether or not your MLS automatically configures the Absorption Rate, it is imperative that you understand how this impacts the market pricing and appraisal of property. Remember, it’s all about supply and demand.

Telling sellers the price they want to hear may get you the listing, but it won’t sell the home. Only pricing the listing right will do that.

MODULE 4: PREPARING FOR THE APPOINTMENT

What is an Absorption Rate?

- An indicator that demonstrates the supply and demand of the marketplace.
- Helps clients understand that pricing is critical to results and that overpricing will hurt their overall objective.
- The rate at which homes that are available in a market are sold over a given timeframe.
- It is assessed by geographic area, price range, timeframe, and property type.

Formula for Absorption Rate

The diagram illustrates the formula for Absorption Rate. It consists of four main components arranged horizontally: a black box containing the text 'Absorption Rate', followed by a white equals sign (=) on a black background, a grey box containing the text 'Average # of sales per month', followed by a white division sign (÷) on a black background, and finally a grey box containing the text 'Total # of available properties'.

Let's look at a few examples:

Let's assume that in a housing market, there are 300 homes available for sale. Since we're in a seller's market, 80 of those homes quickly sold in just a month's time.

- The absorption rate in this market is 26%, which is the rate you get when you divide 80 by 300.

Let's say there is a housing market with 150 homes available for sale within a single price range and only 22 of the homes sold over the last 30 days.

- In this case, the absorption rate would be 15%, the rate you get when you divide 22 by 150.

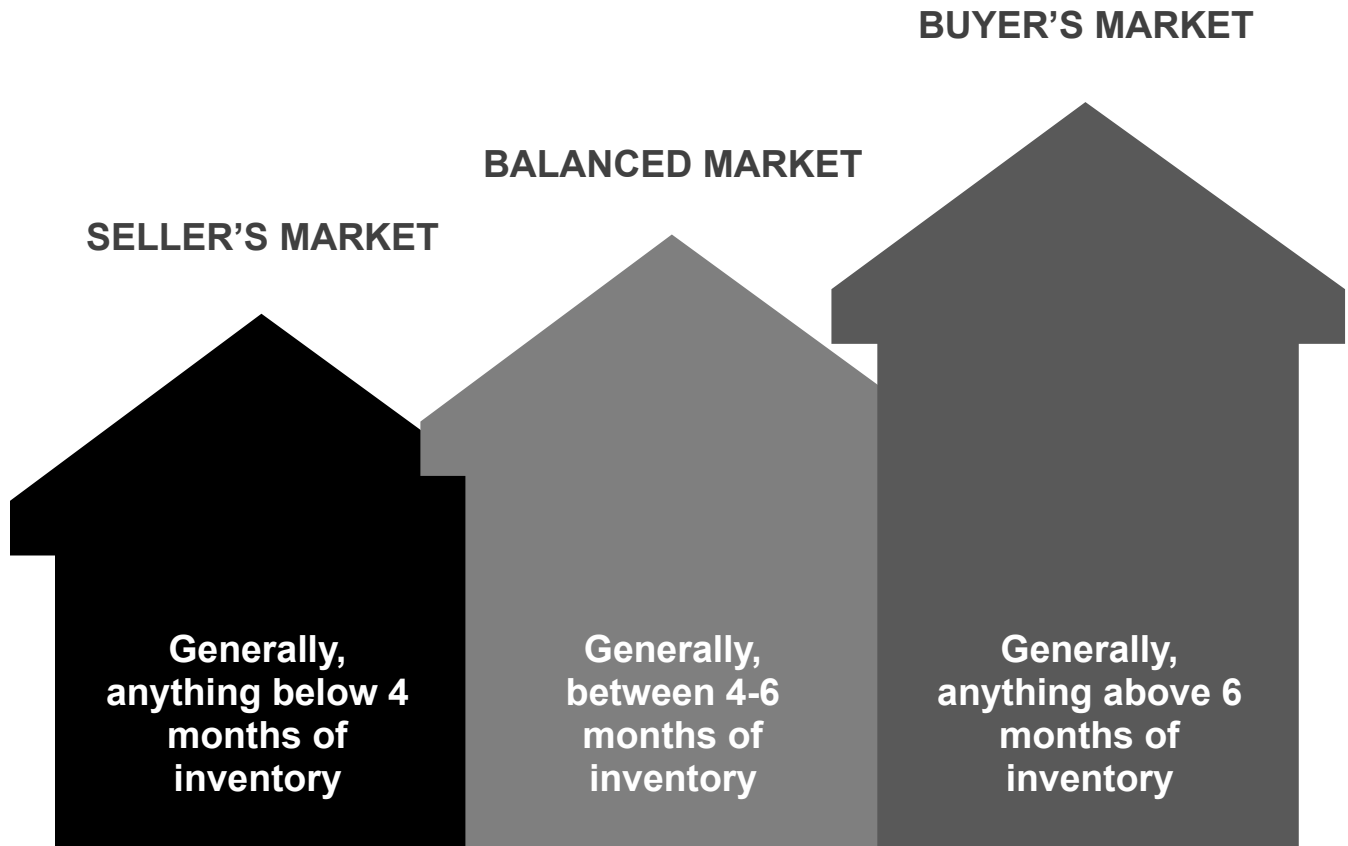

How long for a given market to run out of inventory:

Flipping the previous equation gives you an idea of how long it would take for a given market to run out of housing inventory. To calculate this, you would divide the total number of available properties by the number of properties sold over the given time frame.

- Using our first previous example, you would divide 300 (available properties) by 80 (properties sold in a month).
- $300 \div 80 = 3.75$ months for that market to run out of inventory.

Meeting With the Seller

MODULE 5: MEETING WITH THE SELLER

You Got the Appointment – Now What?

License Law Note

- Notice of “No-Agency” or unrepresented party disclosure must be done on the first appointment if that is your company policy.
- If you approach the appointment as an agent of the seller – you legally have established a presumption of agency representation.
- All conversation with that prospective seller becomes confidential – even if you don’t end up listing the property.

Code of Ethics: Article 11, Duties to the Public

- The services which Realtors® provide shall conform to the standards of practice and competence which are reasonably expected in the specific real estate disciplines in which they engage;
- Realtors® shall not provide specialized professional services concerning a type of property/service that is outside their field of competence unless they engage the assistance of one who is competent, or unless the facts are fully disclosed to the client.
- Any persons engaged to provide such assistance shall be so identified to the client and their contribution to the assignment should be set forth.

(Amended 1/10)

MODULE 5: MEETING WITH THE SELLER

Articulate Your Value

Articulating your value is essential to securing the listing. Here are some examples of how you can do that during the appointment with the seller.

The Listing Packet

Walk Through the Property – Take Notes and Ask Questions

- How long have you lived here?
- Tell me a little about your plans for moving.
- If you got an offer right away – any plans to move early?
- Tell me about the improvements you've made.
- How recently have those been done?
- Are they all calculated in your tax bill?
- Is there anything you do not want to include in the sale?
- Have the listing input sheet with you – or know what info you need to finalize your CMA.
- If they are ready to list, adjust your numbers based on current condition.
- Schedule appointment to return with CMA if you can do a two step

MODULE 5: MEETING WITH THE SELLER

Key Questions if You Sent a Pre-Listing Packet

If you sent a pre-listing packet prior to the meeting, follow-up at the meeting with these key questions:

- Did you review the information I sent to you?
- What questions do you have about me, my services, and the market?
- What is your expectation of the agent you want to list your property?
- Are you ready to begin the counseling session process?

The Seller Strategy Session

The purpose isn't to guess the number they want to hear. The Seller Strategy Session is a structured conversation that demonstrates your value.

- Your job is to be flexible and use a presentation format that complements the seller's generational communication style.
- You can deliver on your laptop, tablet, post on your website, and/or print it out for a risk-reducing method.
- Can be done in person, by conference call, or virtually (e.g., Zoom).

The Purpose of the Appointment

- This is NOT a presentation. It is a CONVERSATION that the seller participates in with you.
- It is a risk reduction tool when you establish a routine to cover the same topics every time with every seller.
- Describes what you will and won't do by law; can and can't do by Office Policy; must do by the Code of Ethics; and want to do based on how you do business.
- Provides an overview of the process and demonstrate the value you bring for the seller's benefit.
- Important components are discussed at length. These include fees charged and the optimum price of the property.
- It is an opportunity for you to assess the seller and property for motivation, urgency, and financial viability.
- It allows you to set a mutually agreeable expectation level for a saleable listing.
- You can determine if you want the listing.

Begin With Your “WHY”

We discussed the importance of knowing your “Why” in Module 2 and how it applies to crafting your message. Your “Why” is different when meeting with a seller or potential client.

What Sellers Want Most from Real Estate Agent – The Big Buckets

We discussed this topic earlier when we reviewed the NAR Home Buyers & Sellers Report. This list becomes even more important during your Seller Strategy Session.

- Help sell the home within a specific timeframe.
- Help price the home competitively.
- Help the seller market the home to potential buyers.
- Help the seller find ways to fix up the home to sell it for more.
- Help find a buyer for the home.
- Help with negotiation and dealing with buyers.
- Help with paperwork, inspections, and preparing for settlement.

MODULE 5: MEETING WITH THE SELLER

The Seller Strategy Session is your point of differentiation, but first things first.

- Start with an explanation of your fiduciary or statutory duties regarding seller representation.
- Explain how you will manage / convert buyers that contact you on the listing.
- Discuss how you behave when:
 - Someone from another brokerage has a buyer.
 - An agent from your brokerage has a buyer.
 - Someone on your team has a buyer.
 - You have a buyer.
- Discuss:
 - What you can and can't do by law.
 - What you will and won't do by office policy.
 - What you must do according to the Code of Ethics.
 - What you choose to do based on how you do your business and manage your time.

Game Plan for Working with Sellers

Your value proposition is an essential component of the conversation. The following example is an excellent way to neutralize those common objections we just reviewed.

What We Do	How We Do It	Benefit to Client (The Value – the WHY?)
Assist in proper pricing.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I will do a thorough CMA. I am aware of what has sold, what the competition is, and how your home fits in with all of them. 	You don't want to leave money on the table by pricing too low, nor do you want to price your home so high that it becomes the one that helps sell other well-priced homes.
Constantly analyze the market.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I am trained on how to utilize the MLS and analyze the data. I will keep you updated if the market changes while your home is for sale. 	I will do a consistent analysis of your competition and properties that sell to determine if the marketing plan needs adjusting.
Market your property.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I may not be the one who sells your home – but I am the reason your home sells. I am trained in helping my sellers get the most money, the quickest sale, with the least amount of inconvenience. I will market your home in the following ways: (discuss your marketing plan). 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I will expose your property in every way possible to the right buyers to ensure showings. Your goals cannot be met if we do not have showings.
Negotiate on your behalf.	My job is to help you analyze offers when they come in to determine what is – or is not – in your best interests and whether or not you should accept, reject, or counter.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I don't want to leave anything on the table. Working with a credentialed negotiating professional assures you will get your needs met. (Showcase your RENE and SRS credentials.)
Follow-through to closing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Attend appraisal. Assist in home inspection issues and negotiation. Coordinate activities with attorneys & all parties. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Accepting an offer is only the beginning. Getting to closing with all the players moving in the right direction is much like a well-run football team. It's the quarterback's job to get the ball in the endzone, and I will be your quarterback.

Discussing how you are paid and earn your fee is a critical component of the conversation during the Seller Strategy Session.

Anti-Trust Reminder

As we discuss business models, competitors, and compensation:

- Competitors may not collaborate to price fix.
- Any conversations about compensation in this course are only for instruction purposes and not intended to convey standard fees.
- All fees are established independently within the brokerage.
- Make independent decisions about co-op fees.
- Make independent decisions about cooperation with other brokerages.
- Walk away from discussions with agents in other brokerages about fees, rates, listing policies, cooperation with other firms, different business models.

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 16-1, Tolerance for Alternate Business Models

Article 16 is not intended to prohibit aggressive or innovative business practices which are otherwise ethical and does not prohibit disagreements with other Realtors® involving commission, fees, compensation or other forms of payment or expenses.

(Adopted 1/93, Amended 1/95)

MODULE 5: MEETING WITH THE SELLER

Fees

- Help sellers understand there is no longer one total fee.
- There is one for the list side and one for the co-op side.
- Each side has a different set of responsibilities that correlate to the amount charged / received.

Remember, Article 1 SOP 12 requires full disclosure to the seller regarding the amount we are retaining and the amount that is offered to a cooperating agent.

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 1-12, Duties to Clients and Customers

When entering into listing contracts, REALTORS® must advise sellers/landlords of:

1. The REALTOR®'s company policies regarding cooperation and the amount(s) of any compensation that will be offered to subagents, buyer/tenant agents, and/or brokers acting in legally recognized non-agency capacities;
2. the fact that buyer/tenant agents or brokers, even if compensated by listing brokers, or by sellers/landlords may represent the interests of buyers/tenants; and
3. any potential for listing brokers to act as disclosed dual agents, e.g. buyer/tenant agents.

(Adopted 1/93, Renumbered 1/98, Amended 1/03)

Focus on the Listing Side Fee

"For all of the services I provide to you in the real estate transaction, I charge $X ... my only other question of you, as the seller of the property, is what would you like to add on for the cooperating brokerage?"

Focus on the Listing Side Fee - continued

Securing fair compensation for services is easy.

- Listing Side is a portion of the total fee that is easier to justify than the total amount.
- Can be a minimal amount for entry only or limited services, or a larger amount for extensive services.
- Office Policy can dictate a minimum fee to represent the seller side of transaction

Alternate Business Models that Unbundle Services

- Some business models charge according to a menu of service options recognizing that not every seller wants to pay for everything.
- If full services are not needed, limited services for an adjusted fee could be:
 - Entry only fee to insert into the MLS only.
 - Ala carte services desired by seller - Flat fee, hourly, and/or percentage.
- Some states have statutory/regulatory minimum standards, but others have only what is required by license law.
- To avoid any perception of discriminatory behavior, you must uniformly offer ALL sellers the same selection of services your brokerage offers.
- Whatever is negotiated, the fee correlates to the work done on the listing side of the transaction only.

The Co-Op Side

With the listing side compensation addressed, you can now discuss the pros/cons of what fee, if any, should be offered to cooperating brokerages.

- Disclosed and discussed with seller per Article 1 SOP 12.
- Discuss types of co-op brokerages that may show the property – buyer agents, sub agents, transaction brokers, etc.
- Discuss the amount(s) offered to each and the ramifications of those decisions.
- Show the seller what other sellers at their price point offer co-op brokerages. It may help with the decision process
- Seller makes final decision prior to signing the listing agreement.
- If an amount is offered to a cooperating brokerage, help the seller realize it could be merely a suggestion.
- No contractual buyer agent has to accept that amount, and it can be rejected
- If rejected, it does not revert to the listing firm, it just goes away since it was specifically allocated for the buy side.

The Co-Op Side - continued

- Additionally, Some MLSs and private companies may display the amount offered to cooperating brokerages in their public portals and property information websites.
 - That means that buyers as well as cooperating brokerages will see the fee allocated for that side of business.
- Listing agents must educate sellers and prospective buyers on the impact of this emerging trend.

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 3-1, Cooperation – Not Necessarily Compensation

- Realtors®, acting as exclusive agents or brokers of sellers/ landlords, establish the terms and conditions of offers to cooperate.
- Unless expressly indicated in offers to cooperate, cooperating brokers may not assume that the offer of cooperation includes an offer of compensation.
- Terms of compensation, if any, shall be ascertained by cooperating brokers before beginning efforts to accept the offer of cooperation.

(Amended 1/99)

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 16-16, Modifying the Offer of Compensation

Realtors®, acting as subagents or buyer/tenant representatives or brokers,

- shall not use the terms of an offer to purchase/lease to attempt to modify the listing broker's offer of compensation to subagents or buyer/tenant representatives or brokers
- nor make the submission of an executed offer to purchase/lease contingent on the listing broker's agreement to modify the offer of compensation.

(Amended 1/04)

MODULE 5: MEETING WITH THE SELLER

Modifying the Offer of Compensation

Listing agents can't interfere with a buyer's agent contracted fee with their buyer client, nor the inclusion of fee clauses in the offer.

- If the compensation offered in the MLS isn't enough to satisfy the buyer's 'employment' agreement with the agent:
 - Buyer may elect to include additional amount in their offer to purchase, or,
 - May instruct agent to reject the offer of compensation and include an amount that will neutralize their contractual responsibility.
 - When worded properly there is NO violation of law since the agreement is between the parties.
 - The company Lawyer should provide approved clauses.

Seller Compensation Language

Viable for use in all transactions including cash poor.

The language may look something like this:

ABC Realty rejects any offer of compensation made by the listing firm. Seller and/or any third party to the settlement and transfer of this property agrees to pay the buyer X% of the sale price to settle their contractual agreement with their buyer agent at closing.

This is not legal advice, and you need to check with your broker or attorney to determine how you should do this.

- This rejection allows all parties including the 3rd party to the transaction to understand that what is being rejected is the disclosed co-op portion of the fee only.
- This ensures that the fee in the buyer agreement, worded as a seller concession in the conditions of sale, will be fulfilled so that the buyer client will not have any unforeseen risk for paying the buyer agent.
- This does not violate law since the agreement is between the parties to the contract.
- This does not violate any Code of Ethics since it is not attempting to modify in any way the amount that was offered in the MLS since it is rejecting that amount.

MODULE 5: MEETING WITH THE SELLER

Continue to communicate your value, services, and points of differentiation.

Once the seller understands who is paid – why and how – continue with an overview of the transactional process:

How Showings Occur	Feedback Issues	Processing of Offers
Confidentiality of Offers	Process for Multiple Offers	Service Partners
How Appointments are Made	Inspection Process	Marketing Plan and Online Strategy

All of these will be reviewed in detail throughout the Course.

Discussing the Optimum List Price

Frame the conversation and set the expectation. Here is a sample script that starts with the price:

“Mr. and Mrs. Seller, we need to first discuss the market analysis I prepared on your property and decide on the best price at which to market your home to get you the best price, with the best terms, in the least amount of time. Once we have done that, we can discuss my marketing plan and how we will accomplish that. Does that make sense to you? Great. Let’s get started.”

Here is a sample script that ends with the price:

“Mr. and Mrs. Seller, the decision of who to list your home with should be based on the person and firm who will do the best job to get you the most money, the quickest sale with the least amount of inconvenience – so let’s start with that and then we can discuss the market analysis and reach a list price that will accomplish that.”

MODULE 5: MEETING WITH THE SELLER

Convey the Facts and Realities of the Market

1. All decision makers do need to be present.
2. You are not there to guess a number they want to hear.
3. Make it clear that the facts of the market are not arbitrary.
4. Pricing is both a science as well as an art form.
5. The online automated valuation models cannot be relied on.

Anticipate the Pricing Information Sellers Have Already Researched

- Using available automated valuation models online, consumers continue to research their property value in advance of selling.
- You need to know what they are looking at.
- If you don't acknowledge those numbers and either validate or neutralize them, the seller will doubt your information.
- These online consumer valuation tools will continue to be developed and improved.
- Professionals need to be aware of those sites and their value assessments whether they are accurate or not.

Primary Objective – A Saleable Listing

- Review your data and research with the seller.
- Conduct a thorough analysis with the seller to help them filter inaccurate or unreliable sources of information that compromise pricing accuracy.
- Review similar properties within the recent past that have gone through settlement.
- Show them their current competition on a feature-by-feature basis.
- Help them understand absorption rate and days on market.
- Neutralize the value of some "improvements", identifying those that do and don't have value.

Real or Personal Property?

You also need to understand what is considered real or personal property, so the Sellers understand what stays with the property when it is sold.

R or P	Curtain Rod Treatments	R or P	Nest Thermostat
R or P	Kitchen Appliances	R or P	Water Softener
R or P	Portable Dishwasher	R or P	Track Lighting
R or P	Under Counter Appliances	R or P	Bookshelves
R or P	Alarm & Security Systems	R or P	Playhouse / Tree House
R or P	Mailbox, Post, Door Knockers	R or P	Swing Sets, Basketball Hoop
R or P	Above Ground Pools & Hot-Tubs	R or P	Central Vacuum Equipment
R or P	Smart Door Lock	R or P	Stained Glass
R or P	Fireplace Equipment	R or P	Bathroom & Other Mirrors
R or P	Humidifier & De-Humidifier	R or P	Propane Gas Tanks, BBQ
R or P	Ring Doorbell	R or P	Trees, Shrubs, Plantings

Everyone thinks their property is worth more than their neighbor's!

- Help sellers understand how today's buyers view certain "improvements" or property issues as they relate to pricing of property.
- Learn to say, "Research shows us that ..."
- Depending on your area, swimming pools and hot tubs may not necessarily add value to a property.
- Just because you lived with that needed repair for 30 years, doesn't mean a buyer will be willing to fix it.
- Updated bathrooms and kitchens are worth investing in to get top dollar.
- Fresh paint is worth the effort.

Determine if You Can Sell the Property

LIKELY

- Sellers are motivated.
- Price is within range.
- Location is 'desirable'.
- Condition is acceptable.
- Seller willing to repair.
- Great curb appeal.
- Easy to show.
- Financially possible.

UNLIKELY

- Sellers are not motivated.
- Seriously over-priced.
- Difficult location.
- Needs lots of work.
- Seller not willing to repair.
- No curb appeal.
- Difficult to show.
- Financially unlikely.

If you want the listing – don't forget to ask for it!

Seller's Net Sheet

- Whether you are providing a hard copy or using today's tech tools, Net Sheets for sellers are essential.
- They provide some assurance as to where the numbers fall.
- They provide sellers a planning tool that they can reasonably rely on.
- They are a risk management tool for the agent.

When Should You Do a Net Sheet?

- The listing appointment is an opportune time to impress the seller with an immediate estimate of their closing costs and net proceeds.
- It is also helpful for assisting with the decision to accept or counter an offer from a potential buyer.

What You Need from the Seller

Ask the seller(s) to have the following information available for your appointment:

- Last mortgage statement(s).
- Statements or coupons for any HOA dues.
- Last billing statements for water, sewer, etc.
- Ask the seller if they are or have ever been in forbearance.

Ask the seller(s) to consider the following before your appointment:

- Are you willing to consider any concessions to the buyer?
- Will you offer and pay for a Home Warranty for the buyer?

KEY RESOURCE

Nearly every title company and mortgage company offer an online automated Net Sheet for buyers and seller.

- Visit the website of any of these companies (Google 'Net Sheet').
- Ask your broker or manager if your office has a template and / or automated tool (most do!)
- Look in the transaction management software you use – there is likely a tool there you can use.

MODULE 6

Marketing the Listing

MODULE 6: MARKETING THE LISTING

We have a limited amount of time in the Seller Representative Specialist course to adequately cover all of the strategies and techniques to market the listing.

The Real Estate Business Institute (REBI) has developed a new course focused on this area of seller representation.

The Listing Agent takes on many responsibilities when the seller entrusts the REALTOR® with selling their home. One of those responsibilities is to be a knowledgeable and highly competent marketer and create an engaging story about the property to the greatest number of qualified buyers possible.

The “Marketing the Listing” certificate course delivers advanced and contemporary marketing techniques and practices to ensure that marketers will rise to the challenge of breaking through today’s noise and presenting a compelling marketing campaign that will connect the seller’s home with the future owner.

MODULE 6: MARKETING THE LISTING

Every Listing is an Interview

Aggressively exposing property to the market offers you a variety of benefits:

- Demonstrates to existing clients that you have positioned their goals to sell the property over your desire to secure both sides of the transaction.
- Differentiates you from your competitors who just do the bare minimum.
- Shows potential sellers why they should list with you.
- Attracts buyers or positions them for conversion to other properties.

Type of Market

Your marketing plan will be contingent upon the type of market and price point the property is in –

- Buyer's Market
- Seller's Market
- Neutral Market

Each market may require a different approach but starts with who the probable audiences are for that property.

It's easy to sell property when there's no inventory, but what are you going to do when it's not a Seller's Market?

Pocket Listings vs. Coming Soon

Seller Markets pose an additional set of issues and marketing challenges.

Pocket Listings are not listed in the MLS. Instead, agents only expose them to an audience of their choice.

- No inherent offer of cooperation or compensation.
- Property can be manually entered into some syndication sites.
- Fair housing concerns.
- Violation of the Clear Cooperation Policy if marketing outside of your brokerage.
- Violation of fiduciary, Statutory, and Code occurs when the agent attempts to 'pocket the listing' to sell only to their buyers, or to only allow showings within the firm before exposing the property to all agents in all firms.
- Additional fiduciary, statutory and regulatory issues are surfacing in the private Networking Groups that share upcoming listings and try to get them sold off MLS.
- More and more Provinces and States are addressing these issues since agent greed is positioned over the interests of the client.

Coming Soon Listings are listed in the MLS. They are designed to build agent-to-agent buzz while the property is prepared for syndication (photos, painting, tenant, etc.).

- Listing agent and seller determine when showings start for all.
- Cooperation is required, and compensation, if any, may be offered.
- Listings are not syndicated.
- Available to MLS subscribers via searches and hot sheets.

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 3-1, Dual & Variable Rate Commission Disclosures

- Realtors®, acting as exclusive agents or brokers of sellers/landlords, establish the terms and conditions of offers to cooperate.
- Unless expressly indicated in offers to cooperate, cooperating brokers may not assume that the offer of cooperation includes an offer of compensation.
- Terms of compensation, if any, shall be ascertained by cooperating brokers before beginning efforts to accept the offer of cooperation.

(Amended 1/99)

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 3-8, Duties to Clients and Customers

Realtors® shall not misrepresent the availability of access to show or inspect a listed property.

(Amended 11/87)

Clear Cooperation

The following section is a review of NAR's Clear Cooperation Policy and will vary between Association and Private MLSs.

You need to research your local MLS rules and their application of the policy. Consult with your broker.

Model Rules & Regulations for an MLS*: Section 1.01, Clear Cooperation

*Model Bylaws & Model Rules and Regulations for an MLS Separately Incorporated but Wholly owned by an Association of REALTORS®

Within one (1) business day of marketing a property to the public, the listing broker must submit the listing to the MLS for cooperation with other MLS participants. Public marketing includes, but is not limited to, flyers displayed in windows, yard signs, digital marketing on public facing websites, brokerage website displays (including IDX and VOW), digital communications marketing (email blasts), multi-brokerage listing sharing networks, and applications available to the general public.

(Adopted 11/19, Effective no later than May 1, 2020)

Note: Exclusive listing information for required property types must be filed and distributed to other MLS Participants for cooperation under the Clear Cooperation Policy. This applies to listings filed under Section 1 and listings exempt from distribution under Section 1.3 of the NAR model MLS rules if it is being publicly marketed, and any other situation where the listing broker is publicly marketing an exclusive listing that is required to be filed with the service and is not currently available to other MLS Participants.

Model Rules & Regulations for an MLS*: Section 1.3, Exempt Listings

*Model Bylaws & Model Rules and Regulations for an MLS Separately Incorporated but Wholly owned by an Association of REALTORS®

If the seller refuses to permit the listing to be disseminated by the service, the participant may then take the listing (office exclusive) and such listing shall be filed with the service but not disseminated to the participants. Filing of the listing should be accompanied by certification signed by the seller that he does not desire the listing to be disseminated by the service.

Note 1: Section 1.3 is not required if the service does not require all (indicate type[s] of listing[s] accepted by the service) listings to be submitted by a participant to the service.

Note 2: MLS Participants must distribute exempt listings within (1) one business day once the listing is publicly marketed. See Section 1.01, Clear Cooperation.

Benefits of Off-Market Listings

BENEFITS	<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Creates a “buzz” among buyers.▪ May stop buyers from making offers on other homes before listing is available.▪ Increase privacy for sellers.▪ Less foot traffic.▪ Limits time needed to keep home showing-ready.▪ Dual Agency may decrease commissions for sellers.

Pitfalls of Off-Market Listings

PITFALLS	<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Limits buyers to agent’s personal marketing sphere.▪ Limits potential for multiple offers and better terms.▪ Can result in seller not getting the best price, terms, or offers.▪ Can result in negative psychological impact on sellers if they believe a “better offer is out there.”▪ Appraiser may not consider valid contract if questionable sales price and only one offer.

Marketing Opportunities Using Open House Venues

It is reported that 54% of all home buyers have visited an Open House as part of their home buying process. This provides a great opportunity to sell the property and to interview for future business.

Your listing descriptions should make a connection with the reader. Here are some quick tips to help you write descriptions that will capture the attention of and make a connection with the reader.

- Be descriptive. Make sure you're providing value in your descriptions.
- Not TOO descriptive. Buyers want to quickly find out about the property. They don't want to write a research paper.
- Use words attractive to buyers. A study found these words to be attractive to buyers:

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Luxurious ▪ Captivating ▪ Impeccable ▪ Stainless ▪ Landscaped 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Granite / Quartz ▪ Pergola ▪ Remodel ▪ Beautiful 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Spotless ▪ Tile ▪ Upgraded ▪ Updated
---	---	---
- Avoid these words. There are a few words and phrases that are proven to either be neutral, not evoking any positive feelings, or just plain bad. Marketleader.com reported that there are some words that are common of homes that sell below asking price. Some of those words are:

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Move-in Ready or Move-in Condition ▪ Clean ▪ Motivated ▪ Value 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Must Sell ▪ New Paint or New Carpet ▪ Ranch ▪ Quiet ▪ Vacant
---	--
- Use brand names. If there are appliances or features from well-known brands, then mention those brand names.
- Don't repeat yourself. The MLS will already have a few things listed for you such as the number of bedrooms, bathrooms, square footage, lot size, year built, and more. No need to take up precious word space in your description by repeating yourself.
- Make people use their imagination. You can add in just a few extra words to help people use their imagination and picture themselves enjoying the property.
- "Private back deck to enjoy quiet mornings."

Generating Interest by Writing Descriptions – Quick Tips – cont.

- Proofread and proofread again. Share the text with someone you trust for some honest feedback.
- Consider outsourcing. If writing just isn't your thing, consider outsourcing. Fivvr is a great resource.
- Be accurate. Be honest of your portrayal of the home, but don't sell it short.
- Follow fair housing laws. Fair housing laws prohibit the mention of race, national origin, gender, disability, ethnicity, familial status, and more in real estate listings. Always comply with the fair housing laws in your area.
- Include a Call to Action. "Don't miss this captivating home – schedule a private tour today!"

Here is an example of an engaging listing description:

"Enjoy your privacy without giving up the perks of a city — this recently renovated two-story home sits on a quiet street in Seattle's Ballard neighborhood, just two blocks from shopping, dining, parks, and public transit. The spacious open kitchen has been upgraded with granite counters and stainless-steel appliances, and dining and living areas on the main level have brand-new walnut flooring. The living room opens up to a fully fenced backyard with large patio, propane fire pit, mature fruit trees and a lush lawn with an underground sprinkler system. Three upstairs bedrooms have captivating views of Puget Sound and downtown Seattle. Main bedroom features a private five-piece bathroom with remodeled shower, large bathtub, and 8-by-10 walk-in closet. Convenient upstairs laundry room with high-efficiency washer and dryer. Ample off-street parking with one-car attached garage and room for two more cars in the driveway. Easy commute to downtown Seattle or nearby Bellevue via car or bus.

Don't miss this captivating home – schedule a private tour today!"

Setting the Stage

Pre-Sale Preparation: Improvements, Remodeling & Staging

You will need to gain consensus from the seller on preparing the property for sale.

Decluttering or Hiring a Professional Stager

- What will be done and how long it will take
- What repairs or renovations will be made
- Who will do the work and will permits be required
- Removing items from the property that will not stay

Prudent Basics

- Secure the listing in terms of the project start date rather than start date of showings.
- It takes money to make money. Set a budget and evaluate the 'return on investment'.
- If inspections reveal issues, make sure that repairs are made, and contractors paid.
- Buyers want "move-in" condition so work with the sellers to make sure all details are covered.
- A dispassionate 'eye' or another consultant is priceless, and professionals are worth hiring.

It Takes Money to Make Money

- Provide the seller with at least 2 or even 3 levels of pricing:
 - 'As Is' Condition
 - With minor cosmetic improvements
 - Renovated or Updated Condition
- In a Seller's Market this demonstrates how even nominal improvements can yield them more money at the closing table.
- In a Buyer's Market it may not yield more money but might motivate a sale when no property is selling.
- This approach helps the seller assess the ROI of improvements.

KEY RESOURCE

NAR publishes an annual “Remodeling Impact Report.”

- The typical cost of 20 remodeling and replacement projects, as estimated by members of the National Association of the Remodeling Industry (NARI)
- How much appeal each project is likely to have for buyers, according to REALTORS®.
- How much REALTORS® estimate that homeowners can recover on the cost of the projects if they sell the home.

Visit NAR.realtor and search by the name of the report for the most recent version.

The Value of Home Staging

Remodeling Impact Report:

- The report looks at multiple aspects of home staging, including: the effects of home staging on how a buyer views a home; which rooms are most important to stage; and how the dollar value of offers changed for staged homes — among many other data points.
- Both buyers' agents and sellers' agents can use this report to see the effects that staging can have on potential buyers and sellers.
- They can also get a feel for the importance of certain rooms being staged, how staging can impact a home's time on the market, and the potential change in dollar value offered by buyers and sellers when compared to similar homes that were not staged.

Staging and Pre-Listing Inspections

- Purpose is to position the property in its best light and maximize the ‘return on investment’ (ROI).
- Property is evaluated room by room to identify what repair or adjustments will enhance the value for a prudent investment.
- Pre-listing inspections are also used in certain market conditions so the seller can position for a quick sale.

MODULE 7: SETTING THE STAGE

Who's Doing the Work and Providing Advice?

Who's Doing the Work?

- Do you have liability when recommending a contractor or service provider?
- What about disclosures if you know they have done work without permits?
- Do you know if they are good at what they do?
- What if you know they are not?
- What if they are related to you?

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 6-1, Disclosure of Third Party Relationships

Realtors® shall not recommend or suggest to a client or a customer the use of services of another organization or business entity in which they have a direct interest without disclosing such interest at the time of the recommendation or suggestion.

(Amended 5/88)

MODULE 7: SETTING THE STAGE

It's Showing Time!

Property Showing Have Changed

- Online marketing has definitely impacted the amount of in person property showings.
- Showing the property now happens online first.
- When in person showings occur, the buyers are far more focused and serious about the property they are seeing.
- Buyers are more apt to be viewing their online finalists.
- The objective of an in person showing is to ensure the property is as good as it appears online.
- For that reason, it is imperative that every in person showing occur.

Respect for Property, People and Each Other

- It is a privilege to represent someone's interests.
- As such, there is general guidance on respecting property, the public, and each other from both the NAR Code of Ethics and their guide called 'Pathways to Professionalism'.
- Although these seem like common sense, clearly common sense is not common.

NAR's Pathways to Professionalism Best Practices for Showing Property

1. Be responsible for everyone you allow to enter listed property.
2. Never allow buyers to enter listed property unaccompanied.
3. When showing property, keep all members of the group together.
4. Never allow unaccompanied access to property without written permission.
5. Enter property only with permission even if you have a lockbox key or combination.
6. When the occupant is absent, leave the property as you found it (lights, heating, cooling, drapes, etc.). If you think something is amiss (e.g., vandalism), contact the listing broker immediately.
7. Be considerate of the seller's property. Do not allow anyone to eat, drink, smoke, dispose of trash, use bathing or sleeping facilities, or bring pets. Leave the house as you found it unless instructed otherwise.
8. Use sidewalks; if weather is bad, take off shoes and boots inside property.
9. Respect sellers' instructions about photographing or video graphing their properties' interiors or exteriors.

MODULE 7: SETTING THE STAGE

NAR's Pathways to Professionalism Respect for the Sellers / Occupants

1. Schedule showings as far in advance as possible.
2. Call if you are delayed or must cancel.
3. When entering a property ensure that unexpected situations, such as pets, are handled appropriately.
4. Leave your business card if not prohibited by local rules.
5. Never criticize property in the presence of the occupant.
6. Inform occupants that you are leaving after showings.
7. When showing an occupied home, always ring the doorbell or knock – and announce yourself loudly before entering. Knock and announce yourself loudly before entering any closed room.
8. If occupants are home during showings, ask their permission before using the telephone or bathroom.
9. Be aware of and respect cultural differences.
10. Identify your REALTOR® and your professional status in contacts with the public.
11. Do not tell people what you think – tell them what you know.

Should Sellers Expect Feedback?

This is typically a spirited conversation in this course, and we often hear responses such as “it’s customary”, or “that’s how we do it in my market”. So let’s take a look at some facts and some rationale for giving or not giving feedback.

Agent Feedback

- Not required by COE or Law except for subagents of seller.
- Seller should be told that you will ask for it, but it may or may not be given.
- The job of the listing agent is to ask.
- The job of the buyer agent is not to respond due to client confidentiality.
- Client feedback requires written permission before conveying interest, motivation, personal thoughts, financial information.
- Agents should not give their thoughts or opinions since it may be used against them later in negotiations.
- Can’t be truly relied upon.

Buyer Photography Considerations

There will be times when a buyer wants to take photos of the property they are touring. Here are some important questions you need to answer before giving permission:

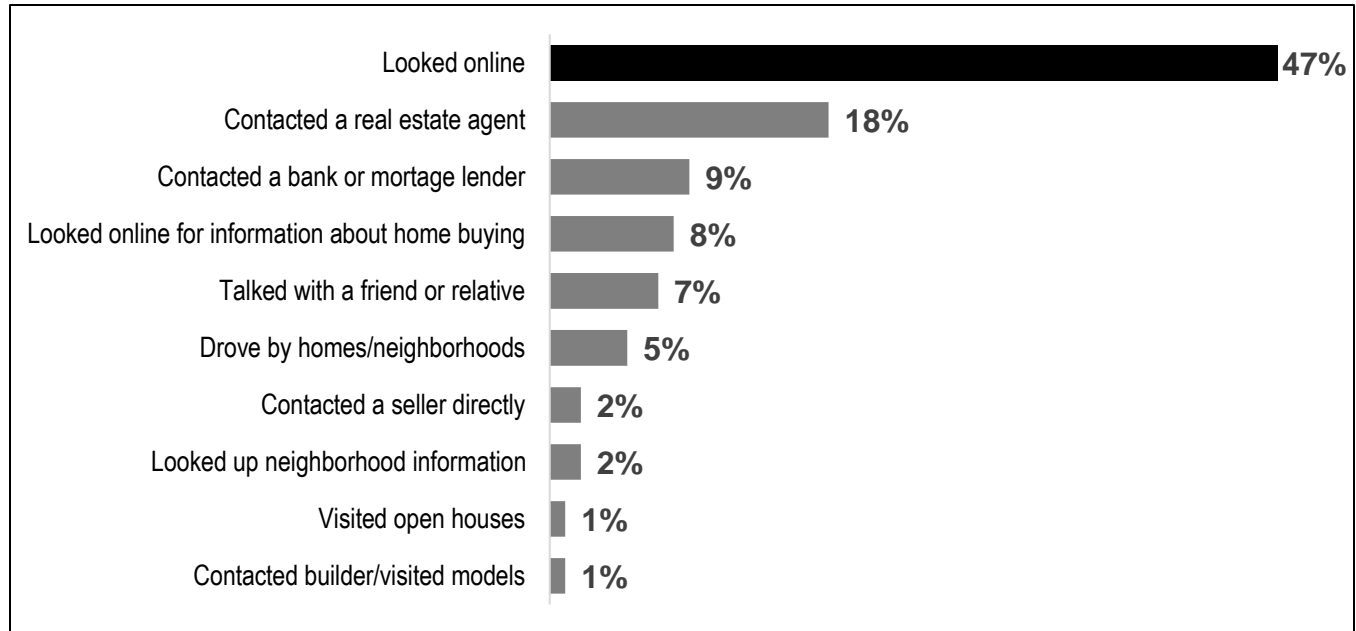

- Could photographing the property be prevented?
- Could they have good reasons for taking photos?
- What if they post them on Social Media sites?
- What about nanny-cams?
- What is the implication of recordings or listening devices if the agent is from the same firm and they do or don’t practice designated agency?

Where Do Buyers Come From?

The first question to ask when meeting a buyer at a listing or an open house is: “Are you contractually represented by a buyer’s agent?”

You Can’t Convert Calls Until You Know Your Office Policy

Review your office policy to answer these questions:

- Will buyers be customers?
- Will buyers be clients?
- Will buyers be ‘facilitated’?
- Will buyers be referred out?

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 16-13, Duties to the Public

All dealings concerning property exclusively listed, or with buyer/tenants who are subject to an exclusive agreement shall be carried on with the client’s representative or broker, and not with the client, except with the consent of the client’s representative or broker or except where such dealings are initiated by the client.

Before providing substantive services (such as writing a purchase offer or presenting a CMA) to prospects, REALTORS® shall not knowingly provide substantive services concerning a prospective transaction to prospects who are parties to exclusive representation agreements, except with the consent of the prospects’ exclusive representatives or at the direction of prospects.*

MODULE 7: SETTING THE STAGE

Agency Questions

If a buyer is exclusively represented by an agent in another brokerage, what can you do?

	Walk-In	Open House	Sign Call	Ad Call	Internet
Give them property information
Show them your firm's listing
Book an appointment with them on the listing
Confirm appointment directly with them
Follow-up directly with them
Write their offer on the firm's listing
Negotiate with them on their offer

20 Questions from Buyer Agents

Responding to questions from Buyers' Agents is one of the Listing Agent's most important responsibilities.

Here is a list of typical questions you will be asked by a buyer agent. Give some thought on how you will respond.

1. Why is the seller selling?	11. If offers refused, how much were they for?
2. How long has property been on market?	12. If offers refused, when did that happen?
3. What has sold in the neighborhood?	13. Why did it fall apart?
4. Is the seller negotiable?	14. Are there offers currently on the table?
5. What's wrong with the property?	15. How many offers are there?
6. What is the Variable Rate Difference?	16. Have you written any offers?
7. What would the seller like to see for terms?	17. Have any agents in your firm written an offer?
8. When do they need to move?	18. What do they want for the property?
9. How many showings have they had?	19. Will they accept __?
10. Have any offers been refused?	20. What is the number to beat?

Questions Listing Agents Should Ask Buyer Agents

There are also some questions that you need to be asking the buyer agents. The answers can provide valuable information you can leverage later on in negotiations or to get a better profile of the buyer.

1. Is the buyer your contractual client or a customer?
2. Where are your buyers coming from, or are they local?
3. Do they have property to sell or lease?
4. If so, is the property a short sale?
5. Have they been pre-approved by a lender?
6. Who is their loan originator?
7. Would there be any contingencies in their contract?
8. How soon do they want to close?
9. What other properties have you been showing to the buyer?

There are two must-take courses that will help you with pricing strategies and sharpen your negotiation skills.

Timely Price Adjustments

- Saleable listings need to be the best value in their price range.
- Over pricing a property can be a disaster if not managed quickly.
- If a property is lingering on the market, adjust or re-price sooner than later.
- There's nothing worse than begging for a price adjustment.

Timely Price Adjustment Strategies

- Secure all adjustments and appropriate time frame up front in the seller written service agreement.
- Identify the amount of adjustment based on the price range and competition
- Consider other pre / post-closing incentives in lieu of a price adjustment – closing costs, cosmetic credits, paid HOA fees, lawn service, etc.
- Re-introduce to market with sign riders, “New Price” postcards, etc. to market area
- Notify all Top Producers (all agents) anyone who previously showed the property
- Email the sellers to keep them in the loop on everything being done.

MODULE 8

Offer to Closing

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

The Offer Process – Presentation and Acceptance

Buyer “Love Letters” (or liability letters?)

A tactic used by some buyers to stand out to a seller, especially in hot markets with low inventory and bidding wars.

Seemingly harmless, these letters raise fair housing concerns, and could open real estate professionals and their clients to fair housing violations.

The National Association of REALTORS® legal department recently produced some important guidance on “Buyer Love Letters”.

If you want to review the video again after class, you can find it on the NAR.realtor website along with a full transcript you can download:

<https://www.nar.realtor/window-to-the-law/video-best-practices-for-buyer-love-letters>

Reverse Offers

- Traditionally, buyers make offers to sellers, but have you ever participated in the reverse where sellers make offers to buyers?
- In what circumstances might that be worthy of consideration?

Code of Ethics: Article 9, Duties to Clients and Customers

REALTORS®, for the protection of all parties, shall assure whenever possible that all agreements related to real estate transactions including, but not limited to, listing and representation agreements purchase contracts, and leases are in writing in clear and understandable language expressing the specific terms, conditions, obligations and commitments of the parties. A copy of each agreement shall be furnished to each party to such agreements upon their signing or initialing.

Amended 1/04)

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

The Offer Process

In the offer process, the presentation phase is separate and distinct from the acceptance phase.

Presentation Phase Issues

Ever wondered if your client's offer was presented?

- This remains a big concern from cooperating agents, especially in low inventory markets or when agents / firms are more concerned with securing all sides of business rather than the interests of their client.
- Listing agents would reduce concerns by providing the buyer agent an ability to present the offer.
- Agent could present in person, live virtually, phone, or email.
- If concerns persist, buyer could present directly to seller.

All Offers are Presented

- Some laws require that ALL offers be presented, which includes oral offers.
- Companies cannot create a policy to only present written offers if the law says ALL will be presented.
- However, once presented the seller can “counter” stating they want it in writing.
- If the agent is a REALTOR®, they must present oral offers according to Article 1 SOP 6.

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 1-6, Duties to Clients and Customers

ARTICLE 1: When representing a buyer, seller, landlord, tenant, or other client as an agent, REALTORS® pledge themselves to protect and promote the interests of their client. This obligation to the client is primary, but it does not relieve REALTORS® of their obligation to treat all parties honestly. When serving a buyer, seller, landlord, tenant or other party in a non-agency capacity, REALTORS® remain obligated to treat all parties honestly. (Amended 1/01)

STANDARD OF PRACTICE 1-6:

REALTORS® shall submit offers and counter-offers objectively and as quickly as possible.

(Adopted 1/93, Amended 1/95)

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

Code of Ethics: Standard of Practice 1-7, Duties to Clients and Customers

When acting as listing brokers, REALTORS® shall continue to submit to the seller/landlord all offers and counter-offers until closing or execution of a lease unless the seller/landlord has waived this obligation in writing. Upon the written request of a cooperating broker who submits an offer to the listing broker, the listing broker shall provide, as soon as practical, a written affirmation to the cooperating broker stating that the offer has been submitted to the seller/landlord, or a written notification that the seller/ landlord has waived the obligation to have the offer presented. REALTORS® shall not be obligated to continue to market the property after an offer has been accepted by the seller/landlord. REALTORS® shall recommend that sellers/landlords obtain the advice of legal counsel prior to acceptance of a subsequent offer except where the acceptance is contingent on the termination of the pre-existing purchase contract or lease.

(Amended 1/20)

Use Caution! Watch what you say in a text and / or an email. It might be legally binding! Know your state laws!

Model Rules & Regulations for an MLS*: Section 2.3, Right of Cooperating Broker in Presentation of Offer

Mandatory Section:

The cooperating broker (subagent or buyer agent) or his representative has the right to participate in the presentation to the seller or lessor of any offer he secures to purchase or lease. He does not have the right to be present at any discussion or evaluation of that offer by the seller or lessor and the listing broker. However, if the seller or lessor gives written instructions to the listing broker that the cooperating broker not be present when an offer the cooperating broker secured is presented, the cooperating broker has the right to a copy of the seller's or lessor's written instructions. None of the foregoing diminishes the listing broker's right to control the establishment of appointments for such presentations.

(Amended 4/92)

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

We are discussing these issues because of technology. Many offers are being presented over virtual platforms.

Model Rules & Regulations for an MLS*: Section 2.4, Right of Listing Broker in Presentation of Counter-Offer

Mandatory Section:

The listing broker or his representative has the right to participate in the presentation of any counter-offer made by the seller or lessor. He does not have the right to be present at any discussion or evaluation of a counter-offer by the purchaser or lessee (except when the cooperating broker is a subagent). However, if the purchaser or lessee gives written instructions to the cooperating broker that the listing broker not be present when a counter-offer is presented, the listing broker has the right to a copy of the purchaser's or lessee's written instructions.

(Adopted 11/93)

No Delays in Presentation

The listing agent can't:

- Require the buyer agent to remove the co-op fee language or any other clause insertions prior to presenting the offer.
- Require that the initial offer be on a particular contract or familiar form.
- Require a pre-qualification or pre-approval letter prior to presenting the offer.
- Require all contingencies be removed prior to presenting the offer.

However, prior to presenting an offer, a seller can require all of the above and more as part of the negotiation.

Additional Barriers to Presentation

- Requiring that buyers be pre-approved by the seller's lender.
- Requiring proof of funds prior to presenting.
- Waiting until "Tuesday" for all offers to be considered.
- Plus, all the other nonsense we see out there ...

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

Standard of Practice 1-6, Duties to Clients and Customers

REALTORS® shall submit offers and counter-offers objectively and as quickly as possible.

(Adopted 1/93, Amended 1/95)

Confidentiality Agreements

If the listing agent and seller are presented with a confidentiality agreement prior to the delivery of an offer:

- Listing agent must present to seller.
- Suggest legal advice prior to signing.
- List agent should review with their broker prior to them signing.
- If signed, neither the listing firm nor the seller may disclose the price, terms, or conditions of the offer.
- The terms may also additionally stipulate that the existence of the offer is also confidential.

Standard of Practice 1-13, Duties to Clients and Customers

When entering into buyer/tenant agreements, REALTORS® must advise potential clients of:

1. the REALTOR®'s company policies regarding cooperation;
2. the amount of compensation to be paid by the client;
3. the potential for additional or offsetting compensation from other brokers, from the seller or landlord, or from other parties;
4. any potential for the buyer/tenant representative to act as a disclosed dual agent, e.g. listing broker, subagent, landlord's agent, etc., and
5. the possibility that sellers or sellers' representatives may not treat the existence, terms, or conditions of offers as confidential unless confidentiality is required by law, regulation, or by any confidentiality agreement between the parties.

(Adopted 1/93, Renumbered 1/98, Amended 1/06)

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

Presentation of Multiple Offers

Myth vs. Fact of Multiple Offers

Myth or Fact	First offer is fully negotiated before others are presented or considered.
Myth or Fact	You can only ask for highest and best once.
Myth or Fact	All competing offers are confidential.
Myth or Fact	Seller must sell if the offer is full price, cash, and no contingencies.
Myth or Fact	Once an offer has been accepted, no other incoming offers presented.
Myth or Fact	If the offer has a deadline for response, the seller is obligated to respond.

Disclosing Multiple Offers

The Code of Ethics (Standard of Practice 1-15) requires disclosure of multiple offers only when asked and only with the permission of the seller.

Presentation Options of Multiple Offers

When the seller has authorized the disclosure of multiple offers to competing agents, have agents present their offers.

- If no disclosure was authorized, offers are presented privately.
- All agents will know that their offer was presented fairly.
- To reduce seller confusion and neutralize personalities – map out all offers on a grid or excel sheet.
- Listing agent must make sure that seller has seen all offers.

Standard of Practice 1-15, Duties to Clients and Customers

REALTORS[®], in response to inquiries from buyers or cooperating brokers shall, with the sellers' approval, disclose the existence of offers on the property. Where disclosure is authorized, REALTORS[®] shall also disclose, if asked, whether offers were obtained by the listing licensee, another licensee in the listing firm, or by a cooperating broker.

(Adopted 1/03, Amended 1/09)

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

Competing Offer Terms

- Buyer pays seller's closing costs
- Seller holds earnest money deposit
- Waive HOA contingency
- Large earnest money deposit
- Escalation addendum
- Remove contingencies
- Appraisal contingencies
- Offer seller a non-refundable daily rate for due diligence period
- Reject the buyer broker fee, which in essence increases the net to the seller and have the buyer pay the agent/firm directly instead

How to Handle Multiple Offers

The National Association of REALTORS® legal department recently produced some important guidance on multiple offers.

If you want to review the video again after class, you can find it on the NAR.realtor website along with a full transcript you can download:

<https://www.nar.realtor/videos/window-to-the-law/how-to-handle-multiple-offers>

The Grid Method

This can be a useful tool in organizing and presenting offers to your client.

- All offers entered by feature.
- Simplifies comparison.
- Provides seller with un-biased analysis.
- Streamlines the counter-offer process.
- Seller can counter individual terms.
- Helps sellers focus on "Adjusted Gross" - the real amount that they will yield.

Grid Method Sample

This is a sample of what a grid method might look like. You can create your own version very simply in Excel or Word.

MULTIPLE OFFER FORM		Property Address:
$370,000 List Price	OFFER 1	OFFER 2	OFFER 3	OFFER 4
FINANCIAL TERMS
Initial Contract Price (offer)
Escalation (Max. Offer)
Earnest Money
Seller Concessions
Down Payment
Loan Amount
Loan Type (Conv., FHA, VA, etc.)
Lender Letter Received (yes/no)
DATES & DEADLINES
Inspection
Closing Date
Possession Date/Time
HOME SALE CONTINGENCY
Buyer must sell to close?
If yes, is the home under contract?
OTHER CONSIDERATIONS
Buyer Will Occupy
HOA Transfer Fees Paid by (Buyer/Seller)
Other Seller Expenses (Extend Title, etc.)
NET OFFER
NET OFFER WITH ESCALATION

Escalation Clauses

- Higher than highest ascertainable offer
 - With or without a start price
- No 'not to exceed price'
 - 'Not to exceed' gives away buyer's price
 - Buyer can say 'no' to whatever seller counters
- Listing agents – do not eliminate other offers
- Buyer agents – may be no way to satisfy buyers need to know about other offer

Escalation Clause Issues

- What will buyer do if does not appraise?
- What will the seller do?
- Does buyer still qualify for the mortgage?
- Will seller kill the sale and hope for new buyer with more down or that it appraises second time?
- Depending on how your contract is written – buyer may not be able to get out of contract if it does not appraise.
- Loan amount remains the same – difference between appraised value and purchase price paid by the buyer.
- Down payment amount stays the same – increase added to loan amount.
- Loan amount will increase to ?% of appraised value.
- Seller reduces price to appraised value.
- Depending on type of financing this may be the only option if appraisal can't be raised.

- You listed it for $400,000 a week ago.
- Gave the seller a probable selling price of $370 - $390.
- Why? BECAUSE THAT'S WHAT THE COMPS SAID!!!
- It sold for $420,000 in a multiple offer bidding war.
- It's just weeks later – and you now get angry at the appraiser because he comes up with $410,000.
- Seller say's they won't reduce the price!

Counter-Offer Strategies

- Some state regs require counter-offers be in writing, dated, timed, and signed which can limit opportunities for the seller client.
- Whether there is one or multiple offers, it is possible to ask 'clarifying questions' of the buyer's agent(s) without tying the seller's hands.
- Most states do not require written confirmation, leaving options open.
- That's when it's time to WONDER!

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

Negotiating Tactic – “Wondering”

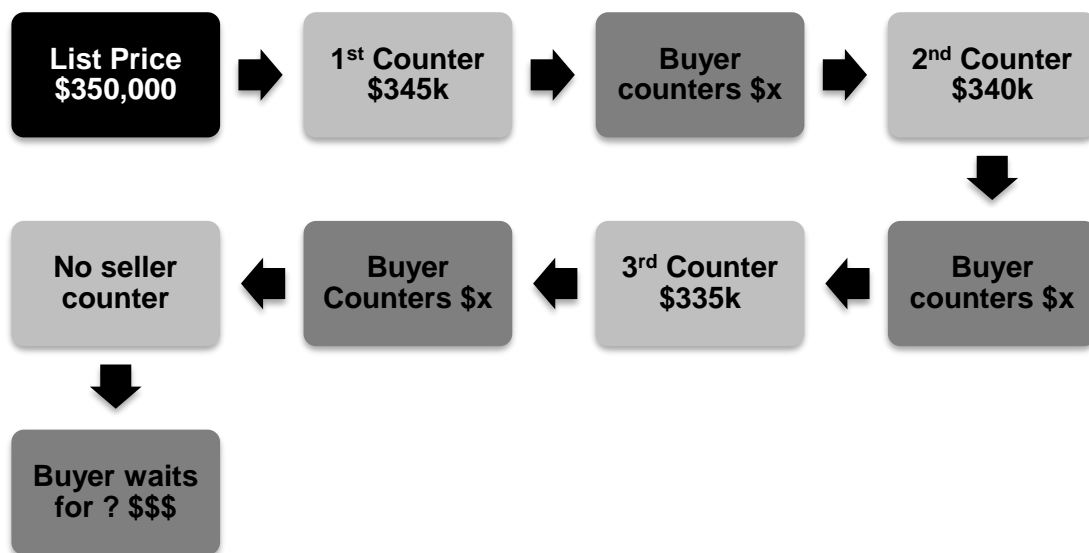

This tactic involves asking ‘clarifying questions’ to determine possibilities. Here are some examples:

- “Thank you for your offer – we see that the buyer has offered $X, has an initial down-payment of $Y, a mortgage date of _____ and a closing date of _____.”
- “The seller was wondering if your client would consider More on the offer price; a little more down payment in a second installment; a quicker closing date – would you be able to ask your client those questions and get back to us please?”
- “What if we did this _____ ? Would your clients be willing to _____ ?”

Counter-Offer Signal Patterns

Counter-offers can signal a pattern that trained negotiators recognize and utilize. When you make a counter-offer, do you signal a pattern?

Example:

What does this pattern signal?

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

Example:

What does this pattern signal?

As we mentioned earlier, the Real Estate Negotiation Expert (RENE) certification course is an excellent program to sharpen your negotiating skills.

Ask the Lender

- How well do you know the buyer agent?
- How well do you know the lender?
- Talk with the lender and verify whether they:
 - ran the buyer's credit
 - verified employment
 - verified self-employed taxable income
- What type of financing are they qualified for?
- Know how high they can go!!!

Acceptance Phase

After the Presentation, but Before the Acceptance

- A seller client can request a pre-approval or verification of assets to close
- A seller can take whatever time they need to think about what has been presented, consult with their attorney, tax consultant or other advisors knowing that buyers may or may not want to wait

REALTOR®

Standard of Practice 3-6, Duties to Clients and Customers

REALTORS® shall disclose the existence of accepted offers, including offers with unresolved contingencies, to any broker seeking cooperation.

(Adopted 5/86, Amended 1/04)

Subsequent Offers

The seller accepts an offer in writing and prior to closing, receives a better offer:

- Must it be presented?
- Can the seller accept it?

REALTOR®

Standard of Practice 1-7, Duties to Clients and Customers

When acting as listing brokers, REALTORS® shall continue to submit to the seller/landlord all offers and counter-offers until closing or execution of a lease unless the seller/landlord has waived this obligation in writing. REALTORS® shall not be obligated to continue to market the property after an offer has been accepted by the seller/landlord. REALTORS® shall recommend that sellers/landlords obtain the advice of legal counsel prior to acceptance of a subsequent offer except where the acceptance is contingent on the termination of the pre-existing purchase contract or lease.

(Amended 1/93)

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

Home Inspection Phase

The Purpose of Inspections

- Permits the buyer an opportunity for an Independent 3rd party assessment.
- Determines if the buyer still wishes to buy the property.
- Contract addendum/clause will identify:
 - If any person can perform an inspection.
 - If inspector must be a licensed contractor.
 - Some states license Home Inspectors.

Listing Agent's Role at Inspections

You need to discuss with your seller client to determine your limitations and their expectations.

Presence at Inspections	Reasons to be Present
<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Not required by law or Code of Ethics.▪ May be required by Office Policy.▪ Can create liability issues for the listing firm.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Provide access to the property or make sure the property is secure.▪ Your 'service' delivery or differentiation.

Presence at Inspections

Your presence at the home inspection raises the level of potential liability for you, your brokerage, and your client.

- Be very careful answering any questions about the property.
- Don't interfere with the inspector, buyer, or buyer's agent.
- If you must be present, just open and re-secure the property.
- Refer all questions about property condition to the seller.
- Suggest buyer and agent submit in writing.
- Have seller answer questions in writing.

Listing Agent's Role at Inspections

- Co-op agents may be expected to accompany the buyer and inspector.
- If represented by a buyer agent, that agent or licensed replacement from that brokerage should be there, even if the listing agent is required to be present by office policy or seller request.

Buyer Agent's Role at Inspections

- All requests should be forwarded in writing.
- Requests should be accompanied by the portion of the report that identifies an issue.
- The same is true if the mortgage company is stating the need for a repair.
- Repair requests should include estimates in writing for repair cost of that item.
- Repair requests should be forwarded:
 - Prior to expiration of performance date.
 - Written request for extension should accompany if nearing a deadline date.

Re-Negotiations

Verifiable repair issues open the door for a re-negotiation even if disclosed prior to the offer being made...

- Re-negotiation is usually best result to accomplish the client's objective.
 - Take each item individually.
 - May or may not be valid requests.
- Follow the contract!!
 - Dates & extensions play a big role in resolution.
 - How motivated are the parties to settle?

Re-Negotiations

Remind the seller that defects discovered during the inspection and subsequently verified, must be disclosed if the current contract fails.

- If seller refuses to disclose because they question results or don't want to verify:
 - Discuss with your broker and/or attorney.
 - License laws require that agent disclose or be held liable for the non-disclosure.
- Be prepared to terminate the listing.
- Disclose all defects reported even if the seller thinks they are incorrect.

The Appraisal Process

The home appraisal process starts with the listing agent meeting the appraiser.

The Appraisal Package

- Floor plan
- Survey
- Copy of contract
- Multiple offers
- Neighborhood information

The listing agent should meet the appraiser, or at the very least make all information available at the time of the appraisal.

The appraisal is subject to property information:

- Date of improvements
- Cost of improvement
- Improvements not visible
- Comparable Sales
- Comps used and why
- Comps not used and why
- Mistakes on comps:
 - Square footage incorrect
 - Photos altered
- Provide pending – details
- Provide on-markets – details

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

The appraisal comes in low – what now?

FNMA Guidelines: (Federal National Mortgage Association, commonly known as Fannie Mae)

- Lender initiates discussion.
- Request for change must be based on –
 - Material and substantive issues.
- Cannot be because it does not support sales price.

Lender Options:

- Contact appraiser about deficiencies.
- Obtain desk or field review.
- Get a new appraisal.
- Return appraisal to appraiser with written justification for change.

Disputing a Low Appraisal

- Buyer Agent gets copy of the appraisal.
 - Reviews with the buyer.
- Cannot start fighting appraisal without buyers' consent.
- Buyer may want to pursue other options first.
- Both agents should work to dispute the low appraisal:
 - Comps used were too old – no adjustments were made for time.
 - No adjustment was made for location – busy street, backing up to commercial.
 - Challenge any 'outliers' that were used.

Give the Appraiser a Reason

- Submit new information.
- Submit new compass – if available.
- Appeal appraiser.
- All else fails – new lender.

The National Association of REALTORS® has created a free download that will help you provide guidance to your clients about the appraisal process. “Residential Appraisal Process – FAQs for Agents.”

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

When it Hits the Fan! – Typical Problems and Issues

1. Personal Property

Issue: Seller removes an item(s) from the property that the buyer thought should stay.

- The law of “fixtures” is not black/white.
- Items removed by the seller are usually not of high dollar value but are serious irritants to buyer at highest stress time of closing.
- Code of Ethics (Article 9) addresses this issue.

2. Smart Home Devices

- Thermostats
- Doorbells
- Lightbulbs
- Security, etc.

Personal Property – Proactive

Both the listing agent and buyer agent should be careful to include all items sold with the property in the purchase contract.

- Be specific.
- Do not rely on the seller disclosure statement.
- Do not rely on MLS information, listing sheets or flyers.

You may also wish to consider an Addendum:

- Identifying specifically what’s in/out.
- Could create possible lender issues about the loan-to-value ratio.
- Make sure the Addendum to the Contract is given to the lender to avoid double-contracting and fraud.

Last Minute Crisis

SCENARIO 1	Seller removes a center island in the kitchen that was not attached to the property. The value is $450. Buyer refuses to close.
-------------------	---

What are the seller's options?

SCENARIO 2	The buyer's lender announces at the closing that they cannot "fund" the loan for two days.
-------------------	--

Who is responsible? What are the seller's options?

SCENARIO 3	The seller removes the Nest thermostat and replaces it with the original. The value is $249. Buyer refuses to close.
-------------------	--

Who is responsible? What are the seller's options?

MODULE 8: OFFER TO CLOSING

The Closing Process

Pre-Closing Walk-through

Prior to closing it is advisable for the property to be re-viewed by the buyer:

- This isn't a re-inspection unless substantial repairs occurred.
- It ensures that all contracted items remain.
- That no substantive damage has occurred.
- That the property is vacant unless the parties have another arrangement.

When should this walk-through occur and who else needs to attend?

What if something is not the way it should be? What do you do then?

Follow-Up

Once the closing occurs, it's never over. Here are some important follow-up tips:

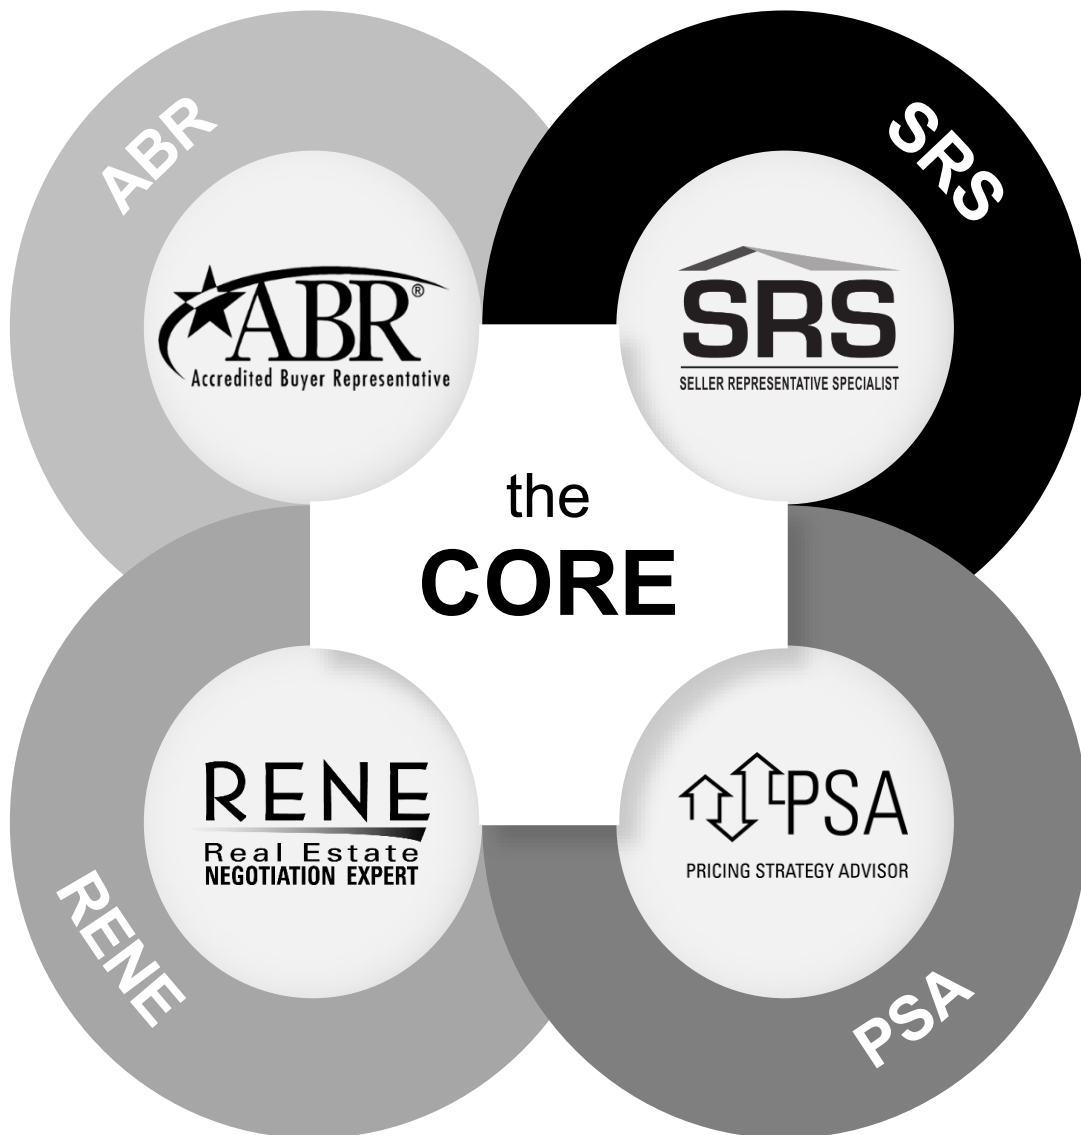

- Insert the clients into your database
- Keep them on your online/offline drip system
- Consider an appropriate closing gift system for all closed clients
- Touch base periodically
- Ask for referrals

182 Things a REALTOR® Does

Listed here are nearly 200 typical actions, research steps, procedures, processes, and review stages in a successful residential real estate transaction that are normally provided by full service real estate brokerages in return for their sales commission. Depending on the transaction, some may take minutes, hours, or even days to complete, while some may not be needed.

More importantly, they reflect the level of skill, knowledge and attention to detail required in today's real estate transaction, underscoring the importance of having help and guidance from someone who fully understands the process – a REALTOR®.

And never forget that REALTORS® are pledged to uphold the stringent, enforceable tenets of the REALTOR® Code of Ethics in their professional dealings with the public. Not every real estate licensee holds REALTOR® membership. Make sure yours does!

FSBO Objection Responses

Objection 1: I've only had the house on the market one week and I've already had three people come and see it.

Most Effective Counters:

- That's great you've had so much interest. Could I come over and preview the property? I might have a buyer who would be interested.
- How many of those people have come back a second time? One of the problems with showing a house is that you get a lot of browsers who just like to see other people's homes.
- Did you have anyone who made an offer? Often prospective buyers find that they can't really afford the houses they find appealing in the ads. As a real estate professional, I always try to prequalify buyers first so that I'm not wasting an owner's time showing buyers houses they can't afford.

Objection 2: I need every cent I can get from the sale to put toward my new house. I can't afford to pay a real estate commission.

Most Effective Counters:

- I know that it's important to have the biggest down payment possible. An NAR survey revealed that people who sell their homes through a Realtor® sell their homes for 16% more than those who sell their property themselves. So even if I charge a professional service fee, you will probably come out ahead.
- Our firm advertises extensively to generate inquiries from qualified buyers and all area agents so that you will receive property showings and increase possibilities to secure offers.
- You know, buyers understand about real estate commissions, too. Any buyers who purchase from an owner will automatically assume that they can discount the price by at least that amount. The only person who gains if you sell your house directly is the buyer.

Objection 3: What do I need you for? I can put up a sign in my yard just as easily as you can.

Most Effective Counters:

- Your sign will attract buyers, but are they qualified to buy YOUR home? We ensure that buyers that make offers are qualified, and usually before they view any properties
- Putting a sign on the front lawn, posting your property on some internet site, and throwing an ad in the paper will not yield the best buyer for your property – it takes extensive and comprehensive marketing – electronic and manual – to get results
- When you advertise your own home, you have an inventory of one. We have an entire database of possibilities to offer them.

Objection 4: If I list my property, it will be with my friend in real estate.

Most Effective Counters:

- You know that your home is probably your single biggest asset. Do you really think your friend is most qualified to get you the best price for you?
- I've always found that the biggest problem with working with friends is that it's so hard to fire them if they don't perform. You take such a risk of losing their friendship and waste time not selling.
- Most folks are usually not comfortable having their friends know all the confidential aspects of their finances or business transactions. I admire your trust in your friend's ability to keep that confidential.
